17 Attorneys for Defendants
SAP AG, SAP AMERICA, INC., and 18 TOMORROWNOW, INC.

19 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
20 NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
21 SAN FRANCISCO DIVISION

22 ORACLE USA, INC., et al.,
23 Plaintiffs,
24 v.
25 SAP AG, et al.,
26 Defendants.

Case No. 07-CV-1658 PJH (EDL)
DEFENDANTS' ANSWER AND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES TO FOURTH AMENDED COMPLAINT
JURY TRIAL DEMANDED
REDACTED VERSION

1 SAP AG, SAP America, Inc. (“SAP”) and TomorrowNow, Inc. (“TN”) (collectively,
2 “Defendants”), without waiving any defenses or rights to be presented by motion, answer and
3 respond to Plaintiffs’ fourth amended complaint, as affected by the Court’s December 15, 2008
4 Order Granting Motion to Dismiss in Part and Denying It in Part (D.I. 224), as follows:

5 ANSWER

6 1. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 1. Because Plaintiffs have publicly
7 admitted that TN had the right at some level to provide third party support, this case (once parsed
8 of Plaintiffs’ rhetoric) is simply about whether TN exceeded its rights to access Plaintiffs’
9 computers, whether that harmed Plaintiffs, and, if so, by how much.

10 2. Defendants admit that SAP considered providing additional choices to enterprise
11 software companies, in response to Plaintiffs’ effort to eliminate many of their competitors by 12 buying them. Plaintiffs rely on snippets and excerpts of documents to construct a tale of intrigue, 13 when the truth is far simpler, though less exciting – SAP bought TN with the hope that providing 14 “Oracle” customers a choice in maintenance might give them the time to consider alternative, and 15 better, enterprise software. Thus, although Defendants admit that the quoted statements are from 16 various documents, Defendants deny the implicit allegations of improper motive that Plaintiffs 17 create by quoting those statements out of context.

18 3. Defendants admit that paragraph 3 partially quotes various documents, but
19 otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 3.

20 4. Defendants admit the allegations of the first sentence of paragraph 4, but deny the 21 allegations of the second sentence of paragraph 4.

22 5. Defendants admit that the TN business case indicated that TN relied on 23 “nonproduction” copies of PeopleSoft software for its “access to PeopleSoft system”; however,
24 the referenced business case did not “detail how” TN used that software or accessed any such 25 systems. Defendants admit the allegations of the third sentence of paragraph 5. Defendants deny 26 all remaining allegations of paragraph 5.

27 6. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 6.

28 7. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 7. Defendants are without

1 information or belief sufficient to admit or deny the allegations of Footnote 1, and on that basis
2 deny them.

3 8. Defendants admit that paragraph 8 partially quotes various documents, but
4 otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 8.

5 9. Defendants admit that paragraph 9 partially quotes various documents, but
6 otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 9.

7 10. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 10.

8 11. Defendants admit that paragraph 11 partially quotes various documents, but
9 otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 11.

10 12. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 12.

11 13. Defendants deny the allegations of Paragraph 13. Customers come first, and 12 Defendants could not instantly shut down TN without taking steps to assure that customers were 13 protected.

14
17 14. Defendants are without information or belief sufficient to admit or deny the 18 allegations of paragraph 14, and on that basis deny them.

19 15. Defendants are without information or belief sufficient to admit or deny the 20 allegations of the first sentence of paragraph 15, and on that basis deny them. Defendants deny
21 the remaining allegations of paragraph 15, except that they admit that Oracle is yet again
22 amending its complaint.

23 16. Defendants admit that TN, on behalf of its customers, downloaded and stored a
24 large quantity of Software and Support Materials, and further admit that TN used those materials
25 for customer support. Defendants further admit that TN downloaded some materials as to which
26 TN did not have confirmation that the customer in whose name the downloads were being 27 conducted had rights to such materials. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 28 16. Defendants also deny the allegations in footnote 2 because not all of the referenced materials

1 are properly “copyrighted materials.”

2 17. Defendants admit that TN, on behalf of its customers, downloaded and stored a
3 large quantity of Software and Support Materials and that TN used those materials for customer
4 support. Defendants further admit that TN downloaded some materials as to which TN did not
5 have confirmation that the customer in whose name the downloads were being conducted had
6 rights to such materials. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 17.

7 18. Defendants admit that TN, on behalf of its customers, downloaded and stored a
8 large quantity of Software and Support Materials and further admit that TN used those materials
9 for customer support. Defendants further admit that TN downloaded some materials as to which
10 TN did not have confirmation that the customer in whose name the downloads were being
11 conducted had rights to such materials. Defendants further admit that at certain times TN
12 maintained certain locations where TN kept certain downloaded materials that were not 13 segregated by customer. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 18.

14 19. Defendants admit that TN, on behalf of its customers, downloaded and stored a
15 large quantity of Software and Support Materials and further admit that TN used those materials
16 for customer support. Defendants further admit that TN downloaded some materials as to which
17 TN did not have confirmation that the customer in whose name the downloads were being 18 conducted had rights to such materials. Defendants further admit that TN kept copies of certain
19 of its customers’ “Oracle” software applications on its systems and that certain development
20 environments TN used to service certain customers were described internally as “generic 21 environments.” Defendants further admit that TN delivered numerous fixes and tax and 22 regulatory updates to certain customers, that certain of those fixes and updates were retrofitted
23 from certain fixes and updates created by various “Oracle” entities, and that TN provided support
24 for former Oracle customers who used Oracle’s database relying as necessary on instances of that 25 database. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 19.

26 20. Defendants admit that TN, on behalf of its customers, downloaded and stored a
27 large quantity of Software and Support Materials and that TN used those materials for customer
28 support. Defendants further admit that TN downloaded some materials as to which TN did not

1 have confirmation that the customer in whose name the downloads were being conducted had
2 rights to such materials. Defendants further admit that TN kept copies of certain of its customers'
3 "Oracle" software applications on its systems and that certain development environments TN
4 used to service certain customers were described internally as "generic environments."
5 Defendants further admit that TN delivered numerous fixes and tax and regulatory updates to 6 certain customers, and that certain of those fixes and updates were retrofitted from certain fixes
7 and updates created by various "Oracle" entities. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of 8 paragraph 20.

9 21. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 21.

10 22. Defendants admit the allegations of the first sentence of paragraph 22, but deny the 11 remaining allegations of paragraph 22. These allegations are false. As Plaintiffs know, Mr.
12 Kagermann's reference to a "firewall" was a reference to a set of procedural rules that were put in 13 place shortly after TN was acquired.

14 23. Defendants admit that before the Rules of Engagement that created the figurative
15 "firewall" between TN and SAP were put in place, a TN employee provided access to a few files
16 containing "Oracle" materials to a few employees at SAP; Defendants admitted that fact in their 17 initial discovery responses in this case well over a year ago. Defendants deny the remaining
18 allegations of paragraph 23.

19 24. Defendants admit that an SAP employee who was a former employee of 20 PeopleSoft created a document that contains the partially quoted statements. Defendants deny the 21 remaining allegations of paragraph 24.

22 25. Defendants admit that SAP sought assurances from TN that TN respected
23 "Oracle's" intellectual property rights and that TN's owners were concerned that SAP's
24 acquisition of TN would increase the likelihood that "Oracle" would sue TN. Defendants deny
25 the remaining allegations of paragraph 25.

26 26. Defendants admit that SAP America acquired TN in January 2005. Defendants
27 deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 26.

28 27. Defendants admit that TN had a program called "Project Blue" that was intended

1 to move customers' environments from TN's facilities into customer-owned or leased facilities
2 and that TN used the term "Yellow" to describe the status quo regarding customer environments
3 at TN during a certain time frame. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 27.

4 28. Defendants admit that TN had a program called "Project Blue" that was intended
5 to move customers' environments from TN's facilities into customer-owned or leased facilities.
6 Defendants further admit that TN considered supporting eBusiness Suite, Retek, and Hyperion
7 customers, but deny that TN ever actually supported any of those product lines. Defendants
8 further admit that paragraph 28 contains partial quotes from various documents. Defendants deny 9 the remaining allegations of paragraphs 28.

10 29. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 29.

11 30. Defendants deny the allegations of the first and second sentences of paragraph 30.
12 Defendants admit the allegations in the third sentence of paragraph 30.

13 31. Defendants deny the allegations of the first and third sentences of paragraph 31,
14 but admit the allegations of the second sentence of paragraph 31.

15 32. Defendants admit that paragraph 32 quotes from various documents, but otherwise 16 deny the remaining allegations of the paragraph 32.

17 33. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 33.

18 34. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 34.

19 35. Defendants admit the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 35. Defendants
20 are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
21 allegations in paragraph 35, and on that basis deny them.

22 36. Defendants admit the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 36 regarding 23 OIC's state of incorporation and authorization to do business in California. Defendants are 24 without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
25 allegations in paragraph 36, and on that basis deny them.

26 37. Defendants admit the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 37. Defendants
27 are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
28 allegations in paragraph 37, and on that basis deny them.

1 38. Defendants admit the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 38. Defendants
2 are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
3 allegations in paragraph 38, and on that basis deny them.

4 39. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 39.

5 40. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 40.

6 41. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 41, except that the entity
7 TomorrowNow has never had or been known by the name "SAP-TN."

8 42. Defendants deny the allegations of the second sentence of paragraph 42.
9 Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the 10 remaining allegations in paragraph 42, and on that basis deny them.

11 43. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 43, but aver that as of October 31, 12 2008, TN ceased operations and is no longer providing third party support in this district or 13 elsewhere.

14 44. Defendants admit that SAP America is a 100% wholly-owned subsidiary of SAP
15 AG, that TN is a 100% wholly-owned subsidiary of SAP America, and that the two parent
16 companies have all the rights and authorities that are commensurate with that 100% ownership.
17 Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 44.

18 45. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 45.

19 46. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 46.

20 47. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 47.

21 48. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 48.

22 49. Defendants do not contest assignment in this division, but are without knowledge 23 or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations of paragraph 49 and on 24 that basis deny them.

25 50. Defendants admit that the group of "Oracle" companies collectively develops, 26 manufactures, markets, distributes, and services a variety of software products, and has been 27 granted the certification mentioned, but denies the remaining allegations of paragraph 50,
28 including the allegation that "Oracle," as defined by Plaintiffs, is a single entity.

1 51. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 51.

2 52. Defendants admit that Plaintiffs' license agreements vary even though many of
3 them have similar content. However, because each license agreement at issue in this case must be
4 considered on its own terms unless it is identical to one or more other agreements, Defendants
5 deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 52.

6 53. Defendants admit that Plaintiffs' license agreements vary even though many of
7 them have similar content. However, because each license agreement at issue in this case must be
8 considered on its own terms unless it is identical to one or more other agreements, Defendants
9 deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 53.

10 54. In response to paragraphs 54-61, Defendants admit that Plaintiffs or other entities 11 purport to create and unilaterally impose new obligations on customers or to modify their existing 12 rights, as set forth in the license agreements with customers, by means of alleged "terms of use"
13 and other "agreements" associated with the websites of Plaintiffs or other entities. Defendants are 14 without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining
15 allegations of paragraph 54-61, and on that basis deny them.

16 55. Defendants incorporate by reference their answer to paragraph 54 as their answer
17 to paragraph 55.

18 56. Defendants incorporate by reference their answer to paragraph 54 as their answer
19 to paragraph 56.

20 57. Defendants incorporate by reference their answer to paragraph 54 as their answer
21 to paragraph 57.

22 58. Defendants incorporate by reference their answer to paragraph 54 as their answer
23 to paragraph 58.

24 59. Defendants incorporate by reference their answer to paragraph 54 as their answer
25 to paragraph 59.

26 60. Defendants incorporate by reference their answer to paragraph 54 as their answer
27 to paragraph 60.

28 61. Defendants incorporate by reference their answer to paragraph 54 as their answer

1 to paragraph 61.

2 62. Defendants deny that “Oracle,” as defined by Plaintiffs, acquired PeopleSoft;
3 according to Plaintiffs’ own documents evidencing the acquisition, an entity called “Oracle
4 Corporation” (now known as Oracle Systems Corporation (“OSC”) acquired the PeopleSoft
5 entities. Defendants admit that on or about the date stated that one or more Oracle entities
6 acquired PeopleSoft entities, that Mr. Knowles testified concerning the then-potential acquisition,
7 and that after the acquisition, Plaintiffs conducted a well-attended press event. Defendants deny
8 the remaining allegations of paragraph 62.

9 63. Defendants admit that Mr. Kagermann made public statements similar to those 10 partially quoted, but otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 63.

11 64. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 64.

12 65. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 65.

13 66. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 66.

14 67. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 67.

15 68. Defendants deny that “Oracle,” as defined by Plaintiffs, acquired PeopleSoft;
16 according to Plaintiffs’ own documents evidencing the acquisition, an entity then called “Oracle 17 Corporation” (now known as OSC) acquired the PeopleSoft entities. Defendants admit the 18 remaining allegations of paragraph 68.

19 69. Defendants admit that SAP purchased all of the outstanding shares of TN, that the 20 purchase price was publicly disclosed at the time of the acquisition, and that a public statement
21 similar to that partially quoted was made by an industry analyst, but deny the remaining
22 allegations of paragraph 69.

23 70. Defendants admit that paragraph 70 contains quotes from various documents, but
24 deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 70.

25 71. Defendants admit that paragraph 71 contains quotes from various documents, but
26 deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 71.

27 72. Defendants admit that paragraph 72 contains quotes from various documents, but 28 deny the remaining allegations of that paragraph.

1 73. In response to paragraph 73, Defendants admit that SAP acquired TN and that
2 public statements were made similar to those partially quoted. Defendants deny the remaining
3 allegations of paragraph 73.

4 74. Defendants deny that “Oracle,” as defined by Plaintiffs, acquired PeopleSoft;
5 according to Plaintiffs’ own documents evidencing the acquisition, an entity called “Oracle
6 Corporation” (now known as OSC) acquired the PeopleSoft entities. Defendants admit that 7 public statements were made similar to those partially quoted in paragraph 74. Defendants deny
8 the remaining allegations of paragraph 74.

9 75. In response to paragraph 75, Defendants admit that public statements were made
10 similar to those partially quoted in following paragraphs. Defendants deny the remaining
11 allegations of paragraph 75.

12 76. Defendants admit that the acquisition of TN by SAP was announced on January 19, 13 2005, and admit that certain public statements were made similar to those partially quoted or 14 referenced, but otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 76.

15 77. Defendants admit that statements were made similar to those partially quoted or 16 referenced, but otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 77.

17 78. Defendants admit that statements were made similar to those partially quoted or
18 referenced, but otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 78.

19 79. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 79.

20 80. Defendants admit that a public statement was made on the topic referenced in the 21 last sentence of paragraph 80. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 80.

22 81. Defendants deny the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 81. Defendants
23 admit the remaining allegations of paragraph 81.

24 82. Defendants deny the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 82. Defendants
25 admit the remaining allegations of paragraph 82, but note that the Safe Passage program has been 26 discontinued and that as of October 31, 2008, TN ceased operations and is no longer providing 27 third party support.

28 83. Defendants admit that public statements similar to those partially quoted or

1 referenced were made in mailed and other advertisements, and admit that TN was a lower-priced
2 alternative for support for various “Oracle” products, but otherwise deny the allegations of
3 paragraph 83.

4 84. In response to paragraph 84, Defendants admit that SAP offered TN maintenance
5 support along with a variety of other products and services. Defendants deny the remaining
6 allegations of paragraph 84.

7 85. In response to paragraph 86, Defendants admit that public statements were made
8 similar to those referenced or partially quoted. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of 9 paragraph 85.

10 86. In response to Paragraph 86, Defendants admit that the public announcements
11 referenced were made, that public statements were made similar to those partly quoted, and that 12 TN eventually expanded its support offering to make services available to users of Siebel
13 products at a price lower than that charged by Plaintiffs. Defendants deny the remaining
14 allegations of paragraph 86.

15 87. Defendants admit that SAP received reports regarding the implementation of Safe
16 Passage, had marketing programs with the referenced names, and in certain instances bundled its 17 software and support services with TN’s maintenance services that were provided on a “zero
18 dollar” basis. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 87.

19 88. In response to paragraph 88, Defendants admit that Messrs. Kagermann and 20 Apotheker made public statements similar to those partially quoted, and that SAP and TN sales 21 personnel would on occasion coordinate sales activities, but otherwise deny the allegations of 22 paragraph 88.

23 89. Defendants admit the allegations of the second sentence of paragraph 89, but deny
24 the remaining allegations of paragraph 89.

25 90. Defendants admit that there has been public discussion of TN’s business and 26 maintenance offering, but otherwise deny the allegations of paragraph 90.

27 91. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to 28 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 91, which all relate to Plaintiffs’ alleged states of mind,

1 and on that basis deny them.

2 92. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 92.

3 93. Defendants admit that TN employed an automated downloading tool called
4 “Titan.” Defendants deny the remaining allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 93.
5 Because most of the remainder of paragraph 93 refers to the purported level of activity on 6 Plaintiffs’ customer support website, Defendants lack knowledge, information, or belief sufficient
7 to admit or deny the allegations of the second, fifth, sixth, and seventh sentences of paragraph 93,
8 and on that basis deny them. In response to the third sentence of paragraph 93, Defendants admit
9 that “Oracle” entities permit their customers and their third party service providers to download a
10 wide array of software and support materials, but deny the remaining allegations of that sentence.
11 In response to the fourth sentence of paragraph 93, Defendants admit that “Oracle” entities have 12 spent billions to purchase various companies, but otherwise deny the allegations because they are 13 without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of those allegations.
14 Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 93.

15 94. Defendants admit the allegations of paragraph 94.

16 95. Defendants admit that customers searching for certain solutions on the Customer
17 Connection website are asked to click on a button after certain searches to indicate whether the 18 search result helped solve the customer’s problem. Defendants admit the allegations of the 19 second sentence of paragraph 95. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to 20 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations of the last sentence of paragraph 95, and on that 21 basis deny them. Defendants deny all remaining allegations of paragraph 95.

22 96. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to
23 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 96, and on that basis deny them.

24 97. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to 25 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 97, and on that basis deny them.

26 98. In response to paragraph 98, Defendants admit that TN, on behalf of its customers, 27 downloaded numerous materials from Plaintiffs’ support website and that such downloading was 28 performed from TN’s facilities in Bryan, Texas. Defendants further admit that TN is a subsidiary

1 of SAP America that has in the past provided support services for a variety of software programs,
2 including those developed by PeopleSoft and JDE. Defendants lack knowledge or information
3 sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations of paragraph 98, and on that 4 basis deny them.

5 99. Defendants admit that in some instances the Titan download tool or other tools
6 were used on a 24 hour basis. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 99.

7 100. In response to paragraph 100, Defendants admit that TN employees, acting on 8 behalf of TN's customers, downloaded information from Plaintiffs' support website, and that 9 TN's employees performed those downloads subject to policies that required that all downloads
10 be on behalf of customers with current rights to access and download materials and that all
11 downloads be of materials to which that customer had then-current rights of access. Defendants
12 admit that the downloads TN performed were on behalf of those who were or were about to 13 become TN customers, but deny the remaining allegations of the last sentence of paragraph 100.
14 Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the 15 remaining allegations of paragraph 100, and on that basis deny them.

16 101. In response to paragraph 101, Defendants admit that at least some of the 17 downloading activity alleged in Plaintiffs' complaint was conducted by TN, on behalf of TN's
18 customers. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the 19 truth of the remaining allegations of paragraph 101, and on that basis deny them.

20 102. Defendants admit the allegations of the fourth and seventh sentences of paragraph 21 102, but deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 102.

22 103. Because the allegations in paragraph 103 are not specific to any TN customer,
23 Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the 24 allegations of paragraph 103, and on that basis deny them. The relevant downloading activities,
25 maintenance services and contractual arrangements, rights, and responsibilities vary customer by
26 customer, and must be analyzed on that basis.

27 104. Because the allegations in paragraph 104 are not specific to any TN customer,
28 Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the

1 allegations of paragraph 104, and on that basis deny them. The relevant downloading activities,
2 maintenance services and contractual arrangements, rights, and responsibilities vary customer by
3 customer, and must be analyzed on that basis.

4 105. Defendants admit that versions of Oracle's developer license speak for themselves.
5 Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 105.

6 106. In response to paragraph 106, Defendants admit that the now former TN
7 employees named in that paragraph are also former employees of either PeopleSoft, JDE or 8 Siebel, and admit the allegations of the second and fifth sentences of paragraph 106. Defendants
9 deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 106.

10 107. Defendants admit the allegations of the second sentence of paragraph 107 only 11 with respect to certain TN customers, but deny all remaining allegations of paragraph 107.

12 108. Defendants deny the allegations of the first and third sentences of paragraph 108.
13 In response to the allegations of the second sentence of paragraph 108, Defendants admit that 14 some downloads were performed in rapid succession without real time human review of the 15 materials being downloaded, but Defendants otherwise deny the allegations of that sentence.

16 109. Defendants admit that certain TN employees thought that at one time the Siebel-
17 related customer support website went into "failover." Defendants deny the remaining allegations 18 of paragraph 109.

19 110. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 110.

20 111. By its very terms, paragraph 111 is a general statement and makes no specific 21 allegations except about Plaintiffs' alleged investigation, all the details of which have not been 22 shared with Defendants. Defendants admit that the majority of the customers listed in paragraph 23 107 are former TN customers. As to the remaining allegations of paragraph 111, Defendants are 24 without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of those allegations,
25 and on that basis deny them. In addition, to the extent paragraph 111 references TN's customers
26 who are also referenced in paragraphs 112-117, Defendants incorporate their response to those 27 paragraphs into this response to paragraph 111.

28 112. In response to paragraph 112, Defendants admit the allegations of the first

1 sentence to the extent that Honeywell was referenced on a former version of TN's website.
2 Defendants further admit that TN downloaded, on Honeywell's behalf, thousands of materials,
3 and further admit that some of the downloaded materials relate to applications as to which TN's
4 records do not show Honeywell stated to TN that it was licensed. Defendants are without 5 knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations of 6 paragraph 112, and on that basis deny them.

7 113. In response to paragraph 113, Defendants admit the allegations of the first and 8 second sentences. Defendants further admit that TN, on Merck's behalf and at approximately the 9 time frames alleged, downloaded thousands of materials, and further admit that some of the 10 materials downloaded relate to applications as to which TN's records do not show Merck stated to 11 TN that it was licensed. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a 12 belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations of paragraph 113, and on that basis deny them.

13 114. In response to paragraph 114, Defendants admit the allegations of the first
14 sentence to the extent that OCE was referenced on a former version of TN's website. Defendants 15 further admit that TN, on OCE's behalf and at approximately the time frames alleged,

4 second sentences. Defendants further admit that TN, on behalf of Yazaki and at approximately 20 facilities to create certain additional environments and that paragraph 120 quotes a portion of one

21 answer to one deposition question. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 120.

25 environments were referred to internally as "generic," and that TN updated certain of those 26 environments with certain Software and Support Materials received from, or downloaded on 27 behalf of, certain customers. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 121.

28 122. Defendants admit that for various customers and over the seven years Plaintiffs are

1 attempting to put at issue in this case, TN created, maintained, and used some copies of certain
2 local environments at TN's facilities for the benefit of certain TN customers, that certain of those

6 employees. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 122.

7 123. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 123.

8 124. Defendants admit that TN used Oracle database software to help support certain
9 TN customers that themselves used Oracle database software. Defendants deny the remaining

16 and on that basis deny such allegations. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 17 126.

18 127. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to
19 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 127, and on that basis deny them.

5 Defendants admit the allegations of the third sentence. Defendants are without knowledge or 6 information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the second and fourth sentences, and on 7 that basis deny them. Defendants further aver that Plaintiffs' "DST Solution" is not software
8 code or a "solution" for any specific customer but, rather, made up entirely of generally available
9 information regarding how to adjust certain hardware and software settings to address the one-
10 time change required for the lengthening of Daylight Savings Time.

11 132. In response to paragraph 132, Defendants are without knowledge or information
12 sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations of the first, second, fourth, and fifth
13 sentences, and on that basis deny them. Defendants admit that certain portions of TN's
14 PeopleSoft Daylight Savings Time solution are substantially similar and in some instances
15 identical to Plaintiffs' DST Solution. Defendants deny the remaining allegations of paragraph
16 132. Defendants further aver that while the TN employee that was given primary responsibility
17 for drafting TN's PeopleSoft Daylight Savings Time solution referred to Plaintiffs' "DST
18 Solution" during the course of preparing TN's PeopleSoft Daylight Savings Time solution, TN
19 also conducted its own independent research.

21 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 133, and on that basis deny them.

1 forth herein, their responses to the preceding paragraphs 1 through 153.

3 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 155, and on that basis deny them.

17 165. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 165.

18 166. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 166.

19 167. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 167.

20 168. In response to paragraph 168, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
21 forth herein, their responses to the preceding paragraphs 1 through 167.

22 169. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 169.

23 170. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 170.

24 171. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 171.

25 172. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 172.

4 through 175.

13 184. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 184.

14 185. In response to paragraph 185, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
15 forth herein, their responses to preceding paragraphs 1 through 125, 134 through 153, and 169
16 through 184. As Plaintiffs admitted in responding to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and as
17 ordered in the Court's December 15, 2008 Order Granting Motion to Dismiss in Part and Denying 18 It in Part (D.I. 224), Plaintiffs' claim for breach of contract is preempted by the Copyright Act to 19 the extent it is based on alleged copyright infringement. Defendants' answer to Plaintiffs'
20 broadly pled claim for breach of contract is in no way a waiver of the defense of preemption.

21 186. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 186.

22 187. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to
23 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 187, and on that basis deny them.

24 188. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 188.

25 189. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 189.

26 190. In response to paragraph 190, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
27 forth herein, their responses to preceding paragraphs 1 through 125, 134 through 153, and 169
28 through 189. As Plaintiffs admitted in responding to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and as

1 ordered in the Court's December 15, 2008 Order Granting Motion to Dismiss in Part and Denying
2 It in Part (D.I. 224), Plaintiffs' claim for intentional interference with prospective economic
3 advantage is preempted by the Copyright Act to the extent it is based on alleged copyright
4 infringement. Defendants' answer to Plaintiffs' broadly pled claim for intentional interference
5 with prospective economic advantage is in no way a waiver of the defense of preemption.

6 191. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to
7 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 191, and on that basis deny them. Defendants further
8 aver that the downloading and other activities alleged in Plaintiffs' complaint take place on behalf
9 of "Oracle" users who have made the voluntary choice to: (a) have TN, on their behalf, obtain
10 materials from Plaintiffs' support website that those TN's customers are entitled to obtain from 11 Plaintiffs before their maintenance end date; (b) terminate "Oracle" maintenance and thus any 12 further payment obligation to Plaintiffs; and/or (c) have TN provide maintenance support for the 13 "Oracle" software for which TN's customers are licensed to use after their "Oracle" maintenance 14 end date.

15 192. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to 16 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 192, and on that basis deny them. Defendants further
17 aver that the downloading and other activities alleged in Plaintiffs' complaint take place on behalf
18 of "Oracle" users who have already expressed, if not acted on, their desire to terminate "Oracle"
19 maintenance and thereby terminate any further payment obligation to "Oracle."

20 193. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 193.

21 194. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 194.

22 195. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 195.

23 196. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 196.

24 197. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 197.

25 198. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 198.

26 199. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 199.

27 200. In response to paragraph 200, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
28 forth herein, their responses to preceding paragraphs 1 through 125, 134 through 153, and 169

1 through 199. As Plaintiffs admitted in responding to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and as
2 ordered in the Court's December 15, 2008 Order Granting Motion to Dismiss in Part and Denying
3 It in Part (D.I. 224), Plaintiffs' claim for negligent interference with prospective economic
4 advantage is preempted by the Copyright Act to the extent it is based on alleged copyright
5 infringement. Defendants' answer to Plaintiffs' broadly pled claim for negligent interference
6 with prospective economic advantage is in no way a waiver of the defense of preemption.

7 201. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 201. Defendants further aver that
8 the downloading and other activities alleged in Plaintiffs' complaint take place on behalf of
9 "Oracle" users who have already expressed, if not acted on, their desire to terminate "Oracle"
10 maintenance and thereby terminate any further payment obligation to "Oracle."

11 202. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 202. Defendants further aver that 12 the downloading and other activities alleged in Plaintiffs' complaint take place on behalf of
13 "Oracle" users who have already expressed, if not acted on, their desire to terminate "Oracle"
14 maintenance and thereby terminate any further payment obligation to "Oracle."

15 203. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 203.

16 204. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 204.

17 205. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 205.

18 206. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 206.

19 207. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 207.

20 208. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 208.

21 209. In response to paragraph 209, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
22 forth herein, their responses to preceding paragraphs 1 through 125, 134 through 153, and 169
23 through 208.

24 210. As Plaintiffs admitted in responding to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and as
25 ordered in the Court's December 15, 2008 Order Granting Motion to Dismiss in Part and Denying 26 It in Part (D.I. 224), Plaintiffs' claim for unfair competition is preempted by the Copyright Act to 27 the extent it is based on alleged copyright infringement. For this reason, no response is required
28 to the allegations in paragraph 210 regarding breach of contract or interference with business

1 relationships, to the extent these allegations are based on alleged “use,” “taking,” or “copying” of
2 the Software and Support Materials, which in turn are based on alleged copyright infringement
3 and preempted by the Copyright Act. Without waiver of any defense of preemption or otherwise,
4 Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 210.

5 211. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 211.

6 212. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 212.

7 213. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 213.

8 214. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 214.

9 215. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 215.

10 216. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 216

11 217. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 217.

12 218. In response to paragraph 218, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
13 forth herein, their responses to preceding paragraphs 1 through 125, 134 through 153, and 169
14 through 217.

15 219. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to 16 the truth of the allegations of paragraph 219, and on that basis deny them.

17 220. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 220.

18 221. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 221.

19 222. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 222.

20 223. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 223.

21 224. In response to paragraph 224, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
22 forth herein, their responses to preceding paragraphs 1 through 125, 134 through 153, and 169
23 through 223.

24 225. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 225.

25 226. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 226.

26 227. In response to paragraph 227, Defendants incorporate by reference, as if fully set
27 forth herein, their responses to preceding paragraphs 1 through 125, 134 through 153, and 169
28 through 226.

1 228. As Plaintiffs admitted in responding to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and as
 2 ordered in the Court's December 15, 2008 Order Granting Motion to Dismiss in Part and Denying
 3 It in Part (D.I. 224), Plaintiffs' claim for an accounting is preempted by the Copyright Act to the 4 extent it is based on alleged copyright infringement. For this reason, no response is required to 5 the allegations in paragraph 228 regarding breach of contract, interference with prospective
 6 economic advantage, and "taking commercial advantage" of the Software and Support Materials,
 7 to the extent these allegations are based on alleged "use," "taking," or "copying" of the Software
 8 and Support Materials, which in turn are based on alleged copyright infringement and preempted
 9 by the Copyright Act. Without waiver of any defense of preemption or otherwise, Defendants
 10 deny the allegations of paragraph 228.

11 229. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 229.

12 230. Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph 230.

13 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

14 As and for affirmative defenses to the claims in Plaintiffs' Fourth Amended Complaint,
 15 and based on the knowledge and information available to them to date, Defendants are informed
 16 and believe and based thereon allege as follows:

17 FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

18 1. One or more of the copyright registrations that are allegedly infringed by 19 Defendants are invalid for failure to comply with the requirements for copyrightable subject
 20 matter set forth in 17 U.S.C. § 102.

21 SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

22 2. Defendants' use of Plaintiffs' copyrighted material is lawful use based on 23 agreements between Plaintiffs and their customers and/or former customers.

24 THIRD AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

25 3. Plaintiffs consented to Defendants' use of Plaintiffs' copyrighted material under 26 agreements between the Plaintiffs and their customers and/or former customers.

27 FOURTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

28 4. Plaintiffs' claims for copyright infringement are barred by the doctrine of

1 copyright misuse, as Plaintiffs' initiation of the instant suit is an attempt to secure an exclusive
2 right to the maintenance of Plaintiffs' software.

3 FIFTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

4 5. One or more of Plaintiffs' claims for statutory damages and attorneys' fees under 5 17 U.S.C. § 504 are barred because some, if not all, of Plaintiffs' copyright registrations were not
6 made within three months after the first publication of the allegedly infringing works, as required
7 by 17 U.S.C. § 412.

8 SIXTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

9 6. Plaintiffs are not entitled to injunctive relief because any alleged injury to 10 Plaintiffs is not immediate or irreparable, and Plaintiffs have an adequate remedy at law.

11 SEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

12 7. Plaintiffs' claims for violations of the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act are barred
13 based on agreements between Plaintiffs and their customers and/or former customers.

14 EIGHTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

15 8. Plaintiffs' claims for negligent and intentional interference with prospective
16 economic advantage are barred because Defendants' actions were privileged because they were 17 taken in a good faith effort to compete with the plaintiff and/or Defendants had an equal or 18 superior interest in the subject matter of the prospective economic advantage.

19 NINTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

20 9. Plaintiffs' claims for negligent and intentional interference with prospective
21 economic advantage are barred because Defendants' actions were reasonable steps to protect
22 Defendants' own legal rights, including Defendants' own contractual rights and other intangible 23 business interests.

24 TENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

25 10. Plaintiffs' claim for trespass to chattels is barred because Plaintiffs implicitly
26 consented to Defendants' conduct.

27 ELEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

28 11. Plaintiffs' claims for breach of contract, intentional and negligent interference with

1 economic advantage, unfair competition, and an accounting are preempted by the Copyright Act.

2 TWELFTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

3 12. Plaintiffs' claims for copyright infringement are barred by the doctrine of laches.

4 THIRTEENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

5 13. Plaintiffs' claims for copyright infringement are barred by the doctrines of waiver
6 and estoppel.

7 FOURTEENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

8 14. Defendants are not parties to the asserted contracts, and thus cannot have breached 9 them.

10 FIFTEENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

11 15. Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part by the applicable statutes of 12 limitations.

13 SIXTEENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

14 16. Plaintiffs' claims for damages are barred because and to the extent that Plaintiffs 15 failed to take reasonable steps to mitigate their alleged damages.

16 Defendants reserve all affirmative defenses under Rule 8(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil 17 Procedure and any other defense, at law or in equity, that may be available now or may become 18 available in the future based on ongoing discovery or investigation in this case.

19 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

20 WHEREFORE, Defendants respectfully pray that this Court:

- 21 A. Dismiss Plaintiffs' Fourth Amended Complaint and all claims therein;
22 B. Deny Plaintiffs' request for preliminary and permanent injunctive relief;
23 C. Grant Defendants their reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of this action; and 24 D. Grant Defendants such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
